1. GENERAL INFORMATION

1.1. Standing invitation to past students

The Registrar cordially invites all past students of Stellenbosch University to notify him in writing or by e-mail (info@sun.ac.za) of any change of address.

The Registrar also welcomes news of distinctions, academic or other, won by our past students, and would appreciate being informed of the titles of any of their publications. The Senior Director: Library and Information Services would be equally happy to receive copies of such publications on behalf of the University Library.

1.2. Summary: Language policy and plan

The official Language Policy and Language Plan of Stellenbosch University were approved by the Council of the University in 2002. The following summary is provided in the interest of brevity, but must be read in conjunction with, and is subject to, the full Language Policy and Plan. The full version is available at <http://www.sun.ac.za/language>.

A. Language Policy

1. The University is committed to the use and sustained development of Afrikaans as an academic language in a multilingual context. Language is used at the University in a manner that is directed towards its engagement with knowledge in a diverse society.
2. The University acknowledges the special status of Afrikaans as an academic language and accepts the responsibility to promote it. At the same time, it takes account of the status of English as an international language of communication and of isiXhosa as an emerging academic language.
3. The University distinguishes between the use of the three languages in the following manner:
 - Afrikaans is by default the language of learning and teaching at undergraduate level, while English is used to a greater extent at postgraduate level;
 - isiXhosa is promoted as an emerging academic language. The University creates opportunities for students and staff to acquire communication skills in isiXhosa.
4. The institutional language of the University is, by default, Afrikaans, while English is also used, depending on the circumstances, as an internal language of communication. All three languages are used, where possible, for external communication.

B. Language Plan

1. The Language Plan distinguishes between the implementation of the policy in learning and teaching situations and in the support services and management.
2. Choices between various language options may be made in learning and teaching situations, depending on the language abilities of the lecturer and the composition of the students and programme. These language options are arranged in a hierarchy. Reasons must be provided for deviating from the default option (see point 4 for details).

In extraordinary and compelling circumstances the University may deviate from the language specification of a module or programme, on condition that any such deviation must be reviewed at the end of each semester to determine whether its continuation remains justified. The deans manage this process, reporting on it to the Executive Committee (Senate). The Language Committee must be informed of any deviation from the language specification of a module or programme and must be given the opportunity to enquire about such deviation, where necessary.

3. Three general guidelines apply with regard to the language of learning and teaching in class:
 - Modules in which a language is taught are conducted mainly in the language in question (e.g. isiXhosa is taught mainly in isiXhosa, Mandarin in Mandarin) and tasks, tests and examinations are set and answered accordingly.
 - Question papers in all other modules are set in Afrikaans and English and students may answer in Afrikaans or English.
 - Except in cases where the aim of the module is language acquisition or the study of the language, students may ask questions and expect answers in Afrikaans or English.
4. Departments choose and implement the various language specifications as follows (the above three points apply generally for all options):

A Specification*

Rationale

Applies as the default mode for all undergraduate modules. No reasons need to be given for exercising this option.

Characteristics

- Teaching is mainly in Afrikaans
- Study material such as textbooks, notes, transparencies, electronic learning and teaching material may be in Afrikaans and/or English
- Study framework is in Afrikaans and English.

T Specification (bilingual classes)*

Rationale

Is used for classes where

- students' language competence requires greater use of English
- a programme offered is unique to the University
- multilingualism is important in the context of a specific occupation
- the lecturer does not yet have an adequate command of Afrikaans.

Characteristics

- Teaching is in Afrikaans for at least 50% of the time.
- Textbooks and reading matter are in Afrikaans and/or English.
- Study notes, transparencies and electronic learning and teaching material are fully in Afrikaans and English, or alternately in Afrikaans and English.

E Specification (English as the main medium of instruction)

Rationale

Is used only in highly exceptional circumstances for

- programmes unique in South Africa
- programmes in which students do not have adequate language skills (foreign or English-speaking students)
- modules in which the lecturer does not have a command of Afrikaans
- regional co-operation and strategic aims that necessitate English.

Characteristics

- Teaching is primarily in English.
- Textbooks and reading matter are in Afrikaans and/or English.
- Notes are in English with core notes in Afrikaans.
- Transparencies and electronic learning and teaching material are in English.

A & E Specification (separate ‘streams’ in Afrikaans and English)

Rationale

Used only in most exceptional circumstances when academically and financially justified and attainable for

- modules with large numbers of students
- regional co-operation and attaining strategic goals
- programmes offered by satellite technology or interactive telematic education.

Characteristics

- The characteristics of the A and E options apply respectively here.

*For both of these options an academic language competence in Afrikaans and English is essential for successful study.

5. Afrikaans is the default language of communication for support services and management. All official documents of the University are available in Afrikaans. ‘Default’ does not mean ‘exclusively’, however: important policy documents are available in English and communication with staff is also conducted in English. Guidelines are provided for the language to be used at meetings. Documents relating to the service conditions for staff are available in Afrikaans, English and isiXhosa.
6. Written communication with students is conducted in Afrikaans and English, and recruitment is conducted, where possible, also in isiXhosa. Oral communication is conducted in Afrikaans or English, according to the language of preference of the student.
7. The corporate image of the University reflects the Language Policy and Plan.
8. A Language Committee is appointed by Council to implement the Language Policy and Plan.
9. The Language Centre assumes the responsibility for the provision and/or the co-ordination of the relevant language support required for the effective implementation of the Language Policy and Plan.

1.3. Code of conduct for language in the classroom

This Code of Conduct has been drawn up in order to provide practical guidelines for understanding and implementing the Language Policy and Language Plan of the SU, which were accepted by the University Council in 2002. Council regards it as important that the Language Policy and Plan of the SU should be implemented with integrity. The Code is offered as an aid for dealing constructively with possible difficulties or uncertainties. The core principle governing the day-to-day use of language on the campus is that all staff, students and clients of the University are responsible for language matters and may have the expectation that disputes will be approached and dealt with in a spirit of co-operation in which workable solutions are sought.

A distinction is drawn in the Code of Conduct between the responsibilities and expectations of staff and of students. Complaints on language matters of an academic nature will be dealt with in accordance with standard procedures.

The Language Policy and Plan sets the minimum language requirements for students studying at Stellenbosch University (Language Plan 2002:5):

As a general rule, students taking an A module or a T module require an academic language proficiency in both Afrikaans and English for effective study at the undergraduate level. A higher level of academic language proficiency is required for postgraduate study. Lecturers, especially with regard to their obligations to set and assess assignments, tests and question papers in English and Afrikaans, will be expected within a reasonable time from their appointment to develop sufficient receptive skills (listening and reading) in Afrikaans and English to be able to follow discussions in class, to set assignments and question papers in both languages and to be able to understand students' answers in both languages. They should also be capable of judging the equivalence of translations and of fairly assessing answers in Afrikaans and English.

Lecturers' Responsibilities

Lecturers bear the responsibility of:

1. implementing the language specifications of the module being taught in accordance with the requirements of the Language Plan (see especially paragraph 3 of the Language Plan).
2. revising and adjusting the language specifications where necessary and according to the circumstances (new text books, other lecturers).
3. informing students briefly at the beginning of the teaching of the module, orally and in the module framework, of the choices and alternative for which the language specifications make provision.
4. ensuring that questions in assignments, tests and examinations have exactly the same content in English and Afrikaans.

5. developing sufficient language proficiency to be able to mark assignments, tests and examinations in Afrikaans and English, or making other satisfactory arrangements that it takes place.
6. ensuring that, in accordance with the guidelines for the T option (see par. 3.3.1.2 of the Language Plan), students' language proficiency is sufficiently developed, and the necessary measures are in place to ensure subject-specific language proficiency in Afrikaans and English.
7. striving at all times to act courteously and accommodatingly in situations involving language use (e.g. when questions are asked in English in a class where the language specification for the module is A).

Lecturers' Expectations

Lecturers can expect students to:

1. take note of the characteristics of the language specification applicable to the specification laid down for the module. (See paragraph 3, Language Plan).
2. inform the lecturer of their needs with regard to academic language skills.
3. respect the spirit of the Language Policy and Plan, especially with regard to the development of skills in a language which is not their language of choice, by deliberately paying attention to it, taking part actively in class and working on their knowledge of subject terminology and subject discourse in both languages. This expectation applies especially to the T Specification for modules.

Students' Responsibilities

Students bear the responsibility of:

1. ascertaining the language options for each module and noting especially the consequences, e.g. that translations will not be available in some instances.
2. being honest and open-hearted about their language skills and taking the responsibility for early and appropriate action if they should experience difficulties.
3. deliberately developing the receptive skills (listening and reading) in the language not of choice for learning and teaching by active participation in class.
4. buying and using the prescribed material (especially text books) to improve their language skills in the subject.
5. being courteous and accommodating, and acting accordingly, in situations where language use is at issue, e.g. with regard to the difficulties of the minority group in the class.
6. accepting that one or a few students, because of inadequacies in his/their language proficiency, may not exercise or try to exercise a right of veto with regard to the use of Afrikaans or English in the class situation.

Students' Expectations

Students can expect that:

1. help with language skills development will be provided should their academic language proficiency in Afrikaans and/or English be inadequate.
2. they can ask questions and conduct discussions in Afrikaans or English (unless the other languages are required, as in language modules), taking into account their own and the lecturer's language proficiency.
3. Afrikaans and English versions of assignments and question papers will be available and will have the same content.
4. there will be a sensitivity for language difficulties, so that language errors made under examination conditions will be assessed with discretion.

1.4. Non-racism

Stellenbosch University admits students of any race, colour, nationality or ethnic origin to all rights, privileges, programmes and activities generally accorded or made available to students of the University. The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, colour, nationality or ethnic origin in the implementation of its educational policies, its scholarship and loan programmes, or its sport programmes.

PLEASE NOTE:

1. In this publication any expression signifying one of the genders includes the other gender equally, unless inconsistent with the context.
2. Before making a final choice of modules (subjects), every student should closely consult the relevant timetables. Should it then become apparent that two modules fall in the same time slot on a particular timetable, the University will not allow registration as a student in both of them for the same year/semester since they will be an inadmissible combination.
3. The University reserves the right to amend the Calendar at any time. Council and Senate of the University accept no liability for any inaccuracies there may be in the Calendar. Every reasonable care has been taken, however, to ensure that the relevant information to hand as at the time of going to press, is given fully and accurately in the Calendar.
4. In the event of uncertainty or a dispute regarding information in Part 3 of the Calendar, the final interpretation will be based on the Afrikaans version.
5. Parts 1, 2 and 3 of the Calendar contain general information applicable to all students. Students are urged to note with special care the content of the Provisions relating to Examinations and Promotions in the "University Examinations" chapter of Part 1 of the Calendar.

1.5. Communication with the University

Student Number

In dealing with new formal applications for admission, the University assigns a student number to each applicant. This number serves as the unique identification of the person concerned. However, the mere assignment of a student number does not imply that the applicant has been accepted for the proposed programme of study. You will be advised whether or not you have been accepted in a separate letter.

Once you have been informed of your student number you must please quote it in all future correspondence with the University.

3.4. How may payments be made

Student fees account – Availability

- 3.4.1. Following registration, your complete student fees account for the academic year is sent to you by mail, and also by e-mail if you have indicated in the student portal at <http://www.mymaties.com> that you also want to receive your account by e-mail and you have provided the e-mail address of the person responsible for payment of your account.
- 3.4.2. BY 17 FEBRUARY, following registration, you may gain access to your student fees account via the student portal at <http://www.mymaties.com>.
- 3.4.3. Student fees account balances are also sent to students via SMS at certain times during the year.

Student fees account – General

- 3.4.4. Instalments shall be payable punctually on the fixed dates (also to prevent interest), whether you have received your student fees account or not.
- 3.4.5. Please note that it shall be your responsibility to request your account if you did not receive it. The University does not accept responsibility for any account that has not been received due to, for example, an incorrect address given or possible faulty handling by the postal services. Therefore, the defence that no account was received shall not be accepted as an excuse for the non-payment of an account by the fixed dates.
- 3.4.6. You may settle your student fees account by paying the complete amount in one payment by the date of registration instead of paying the compulsory first instalment only, or you may settle your student fees account (i) in two further instalments or (ii) through the University's debit order system in seven further instalments.

PLEASE NOTE:

If study fees are paid in full ON OR BEFORE 31 MARCH, a rebate of 3% on SU tuition fees will be granted (excluding USB, SPL and MIKM components of tuition fees), provided that the parent or guardian completes the prescribed form and hands it in at the Student Fees Section for processing.

The rebate system for early payments has been extended to students who pay their study fees in full within sixty days after the official date of registration for the specific student group they are part of and who apply in the prescribed manner for the 3% rebate on SU tuition fees (excluding USB, SPL and MIKM components of tuition fees).

The form is available on the web at <http://www.maties.com> under “Fees”, “Payment Options”. See also par. 6.6.

3.5. Modes of payment

Payment in two further instalments

This mode of payment applies by default if you do not opt to pay your student fees account in full at the start of the year or settle your student fees account through the debit order system.

The following fixed instalments have to be paid on or before the dates as set out below. The exact amount of the instalment is indicated against the closing date on the account.

30 MAY	At least 75% of your total account, taking into consideration the fees that you have paid by the registration date.
30 SEPTEMBER	The outstanding balance on your student fees account.

Payment according to the University’s debit order system

In accordance with this mode of payment you pay seven monthly instalments, excluding the fees that you have already paid by the date of registration.

By 1 MAY	The first instalment of the debit order payment is payable.
After 1 MAY UP TO AND UNTIL 1 NOVEMBER	A further six instalments are payable on the first day of the month.

If any further amounts are charged to your student fees account, the subsequent monthly instalments will be adjusted to include the pro rata part of these further amounts.

If you opt for paying according to the debit order system, you are required to obtain a debit order form with full information from the Student Fees Section. The form may also be obtained from <http://www.maties.com> under “Fees”, “Payment Options”. The completed debit order form must reach the University ON OR BEFORE 31 MARCH.

This mode of payment shall remain valid for the full duration of the programme or until written cancellation thereof with 30 days’ notice to the Student Fees Section by the person accountable. You will therefore not need to reapply annually for payment according to the debit order system for the same programme, but only if you register anew for a programme and wish to make use again of the debit order payment system.

3.6. Dates for registration

Registration as student

The official dates for registration as student for the year differ for undergraduate first-year and returning students, special students, and postgraduate first-year and returning students. Consult the notice regarding registration sent to you or <http://www.maties.com> for the date of registration applicable to you.

Registration for first semester

14 FEBRUARY	Last day for late registration for undergraduate, special, diploma and honours students.
14 FEBRUARY	Last day for registration for returning master’s and doctoral students.
31 MARCH	Last day for registration for first-year master’s and doctoral students.

Registration for second semester

1 AUGUST	Last day for registration for the second semester (applications close 14 JULY).

Late registration

Late registration for a programme is subject to payment of all fees normally required, as well as the fees applicable at late registration as set out below, by the date of registration. Late registration for (a) module(s), if it is still allowable, is subject to the following registration fees:

Fee for registration after the official closing date	R500
Late registration fee in the case of a module	R100

3.7. Student card

Each person who registers for the first time as a student is given a student card (photo identity card) at a cost of R80 per student card.

The student card is an electronic magnetic card, which identifies you as a student. Without your student card you will not be allowed to attend classes or to write examinations. It is therefore important that you look after your student card.

Returning students keep the student cards they were given the first time they registered and they are required to bring their student cards with them each concurrent time that they register so that the year can be renewed.

You may use your student card to:

- gain access to University buildings, such as the JS Gericke Library;
- use photocopiers;
- reserve meals; and
- use laundry facilities.

A specific condition attached the use of your student card is that you accept liability for all financial transactions concluded with the card until it expires. If you lose your student card, you may have a new card activated at the Student Fees Section against payment of the required amount of R80.

4. FEES PAYABLE

Please note that the amounts given in the table below in par. 4.2. are only applicable to South African citizens or persons who are in possession of valid permanent residence permits. Persons who do not fall in either of these two categories should enquire at the University's Postgraduate and International Office (PGIO) about the costs of studies, as well as about other possible expenses, such as housing. Visit their home page at <http://www0.sun.ac.za/pgstudies/>. The amounts given in par. 4.2. below are not applicable to any students supported by means of the telematic-technology platform either. These students should enquire from Mr Sean Davidse at seand@sun.ac.za or 021 808 3530.

4.1. Categories of students – definitions

4.1.1. First-year undergraduate students

First-year undergraduate students are students who are registering for the first time for any undergraduate programme.

4.1.2. Returning undergraduate students

Returning undergraduate students are persons registering for any year after the first year of registration for an undergraduate programme, including for the final year.

4.1.3. First-year postgraduate students

First-year postgraduate students are persons registering for the first time for any postgraduate programme.

4.1.4. Returning postgraduate students

Returning postgraduate students are persons registering for any year after the first year of registration for a postgraduate programme, including for the final year.

4.1.5. Special students

Special students are persons registering only for an individual module or a few modules, as part of the admission requirements for a specific programme or because of an interest in the module(s).

Fees in italics apply to all students. See, however, par. 5.4. and 5.5. for possible crediting of deposits for photocopying and printing.

Information about fees and also amounts (where applicable) are given in an alphabetical list, numbered as above, in the next section, “Explanations of the Fees Payable”.

The study fees entail the total cost of studies, which includes the tuition fees, materials fees (see par. 5.8.), laboratory fees (see par. 5.7.), travelling expenses (see par. 5.20.), running costs (see par. 5.15.), programme levy (Engineering students only) (see par. 5.12.) and the membership dues for any faculty-bound, academic societies (see par. 5.10.), as applicable to a programme or module(s).

By date of registration

The first instalment of study fees is a fixed amount for each grouping of students as set out in the table above and it is payable accordingly. Sometimes, however, a student registers only for (a) single module(s) for which the total study fees are less than the amount of the compulsory first payment. If the total study fees for the module(s) you wish to take constitute a smaller amount than the first instalment of the study fees given in the table above for your grouping, you are required to pay the total study fees by the date of registration.

The first instalment of your study fees, or conversely the total study fees (where this amount constitutes a smaller amount than the first instalment of the study fees), and, if applicable, the first instalment of your accommodation fee, are payable by the date of registration. Ideally, however, the University should receive this payment at least three days before the date of registration.

The first instalment of your accommodation fee and the first instalment of your study fees, or conversely the total study fees (where this amount constitutes a smaller amount than the compulsory first instalment of the study fees), may be paid as a single amount.

PLEASE NOTE:

The student fees account for a particular year must be paid in full before a student may be allowed to register for the following year.

After registration

A complete student fees account is sent to you for all the fees payable and not for individual fees. Subtracting what you have already paid by the date of registration (for instance, as a first instalment) from the total of your student fees account, if you do not pay your student fees account in full immediately, you are required to pay your student fees account in (i) two further instalments (END OF MAY and END OF SEPTEMBER) or in (ii) seven further instalments through the University’s debit order system (first instalment BY 1 MAY).

See par. 3.5. for detailed information about the two ways of payment.

Continuation of registration for full duration of studies

Any honours, master's or doctoral student, and likewise any student for a postgraduate certificate or diploma, must, for the full duration of his studies until awarded the degree, certificate or diploma concerned, each year register as a student, bearing in mind the additional information given in the chapter "Higher Degrees" in the Calendar, Part 1. If, prior to the conferment upon him of the degree, certificate or diploma concerned, any such student fails to register as a student for the current year before the prescribed date, his registration, and in the case of a student for the degree of Master or of Doctor also the topic of his thesis or dissertation, shall lapse. Any such student wishing to be readmitted to the degree, certificate or diploma programme concerned shall be required to apply in writing for readmission, to register anew for the programme concerned and to pay anew the required tuition fees. Alternatively, only in the case of master's and doctoral programmes, and if the years of non-registration does not make it financially detrimental for the student (compared to registering anew for the programme), and if consent is granted to register again, the programme fees for the year(s) of non-registration must be paid in full and then registration for the programme continues as usual. In such cases, however, the student shall not be registered with retrospective effect for the year(s) of non-registration for which programme fees had been paid.

5. EXPLANATIONS OF THE FEES PAYABLE

5.1. First instalment on accommodation fee

This amount is payable in full by all students who have been allocated a place in University accommodation. When you are allocated a place in University accommodation for the first time, the University sends you a written notice regarding this in the preceding year. With this notice you also receive a form, which you then have to complete and return to the University together with the first instalment of your accommodation fee to signify your acceptance of the allocated place.

If you have made use of University accommodation the previous year, the first instalment for the subsequent year is also payable by the date of registration.

5.2. Balance of accommodation fee

This amount can be calculated by subtracting the first instalment of the accommodation fee from the total accommodation fee, as it applies to you. See “Accommodation Fees” below for the amount payable as the total accommodation fee for each individual University accommodation.

Accommodation fees per specific University accommodation

All amounts are given in rand and are payable per person.

Unless stated otherwise, the amounts are applicable to the academic year and not given per month. The residence fee (house fees) and cost of meals are not included in the amounts, unless stated otherwise.

5.3. Application fee

The amount (payable once per programme or for the duration of continuous annual registration as special student) is not refundable and must be paid when you apply for admission. The application fee is not used towards payment of any other fees.

Please note that for some programmes there are set closing dates for applications. Consult the Almanac of the University in Part 1 (General) of the University Calendar, the relevant pages of the University's website (<http://www.sun.ac.za/english/faculty/Pages/Calendar.aspx> and <http://www.maties.com>) or the relevant faculty part of the Calendar, to ensure that you apply for admission to your proposed programme in time.

The application fee is not applicable to international students.

5.4. Deposit for photocopying

When a student uses his student card for the first time for photocopying, a deposit is debited to his student fees account for the use of the University's photocopying facilities. At any time that the photocopying quota has been exhausted, it has to be replenished before any further use of the University's photocopying facilities can be made.

The photocopying quota may be replenished UNTIL 8 AUGUST at any photocopier by swiping a student card, equipped with a magnetic strip, through the slot, which will then load a replenishing amount (currently R450) on the student fees account.

AFTER 8 AUGUST the photocopying quota may only be replenished with a cash payment at the cashiers or by an electronic credit card payment (under "Student account", "Payment Options", after signing in at the student portal <http://www.mymaties.com>). If the photocopying quota is not depleted by the end of the academic year, the remaining amount is credited to your student fees account.

5.5. Deposit for printing

When a student uses his student card for the first time for printing, a deposit is debited to his student fees account for the use of the University's printing facilities. At any time that the printing quota has been exhausted, it has to be replenished before any further use of the University's printing facilities can be made.

The printing quota may be replenished UNTIL 8 AUGUST at <https://maties2.sun.ac.za/rtad4/useradm>.

AFTER 8 AUGUST the printing quota may only be replenished with a cash payment at the cashiers or by an electronic credit card payment (under "Student account", "Payment Options", after signing in at the student portal <http://www.mymaties.com>). If the printing quota is not depleted by the end of the academic year, the remaining amount is credited to your student fees account.

5.6. Deposit for the use of laundry facilities

The deposit is debited to the student fees accounts of all students living in University residences for the use of laundry facilities at the residences. The laundry facilities include washing machines and tumble driers.

You may replenish the laundry quota UNTIL 8 AUGUST at any laundry facility by swiping a student card, equipped with a magnetic strip, through the slot, which will then load a replenishing amount (currently R600) on the student fees account.

AFTER 8 AUGUST the laundry quota may only be replenished with a cash payment at the cashiers or by an electronic credit card payment (under "Student account", "Payment Options", after signing in at the student portal <http://www.mymaties.com>). If the laundry quota is not depleted by the end of the academic year, the remaining amount is credited to your student fees account.

5.7. Laboratory fees

Laboratory fees are charged by the academic department concerned for, among others, the use of language laboratories and natural science laboratories. The laboratory fees per module are given in the alphabetical lists of modules in section 8.

Consult the academic department concerned about laboratory fees payable per postgraduate programme, as applicable.

PLEASE NOTE:

Laboratory fees are set by the academic departments themselves and all enquiries about laboratory fees have to be addressed to the academic department concerned.

5.8. Material fees

If class notes or other study material is provided to you, materials fees are charged in addition to the normal tuition fees. The materials fees per module, as applicable, are given together with the running costs in the alphabetical lists of modules in section 8.

Consult the academic department concerned about the materials fees payable per postgraduate programmes, as applicable.

PLEASE NOTE:

Materials fees are set by the academic departments themselves and all enquiries about materials fees have to be addressed to the academic department concerned.

In exceptional cases, material fees may be charged at a late stage of the academic year. This is permitted only if it can be satisfactorily motivated – mainly tied to unforeseen or changing circumstances. All enquiries in this regard have to be addressed to the academic department concerned.

5.9. Deposit for meal packages

Accommodation fees do not include meals, except where so stated. The details of students placed in University residences on the Stellenbosch campus that do provide meals, are automatically recorded on the meals system. At the beginning of the year, students may choose a meal package through a computer terminal in the relevant residence or through the student portal <http://www.mymaties.com>. The amount that is available for meals according to your meal package may also be replenished at the computer terminal or through the student portal UNTIL 8 AUGUST.

AFTER 8 AUGUST the amount available for meals may only be replenished with a cash payment at the cashiers, as mentioned in “Information for all students” (see section 3), or by an electronic credit card payment (under “Student account”, “Payment Options”, after signing in at the student portal <http://www.mymaties.com>). If your meal package amount is not depleted by the end of the academic year, the remainder is credited to your student fees account.

See also par. 6.2., “Booking of meals”, for information about the possibility of meals for PSO students.

5.10. Membership dues for academic and registered societies

Some faculties require that students who are registered for certain programmes or modules become members of academic, faculty-bound societies. Membership dues may be debited annually against such students’ student fees account for the functioning of the academic society/societies concerned.

Membership dues for other (non-academic) student societies is automatically debited against your student fees account, provided that the society concerned is registered with the Student Representative Council and you have registered in person through the student portal as a member of this society, after academic registration. To find out if membership dues for a society are levied during any given year and, if so, what the amount is, contact the chair of the society concerned. The contact details for society chairs can be found at <http://www0.sun.ac.za/verenigings/>.

PLEASE NOTE:

Membership of the academic society/societies of a faculty and, where relevant, of an academic department is compulsory for all undergraduate, special and honours students in the faculty and, where relevant, the academic department.

5.11. Parking fee

Students or staff members wishing to park private motor vehicles on University grounds must register these vehicles electronically at the relevant University division. Registration of a motor vehicle is a prerequisite for parking on University grounds but does not guarantee a parking bay. Consult the web page <http://www.sun.ac.za/mobility-parking> for the following: various types of parking available, the application and allocation procedures, associated costs and payment mechanisms.

5.12. Programme Levy

For undergraduate Engineering students, materials fees, travelling expenses and laboratory fees are not levied separately for modules of which the home departments are departments in the Engineering Faculty itself (see Part 11 of the Calendar to determine the home department of a module). One consolidated amount, the programme levy, covering study-related additional expenses in the Faculty of Engineering, is stated on the student fees account. The programme levy includes a component which is used to replace equipment and other smaller items in undergraduate laboratories. The programme levy is the same for all undergraduate Engineering programmes, regardless of the number of modules taken in the year concerned. Please note that the programme levy is not refundable, either in full or in part (e.g. in cases of discontinuation of studies or changing of programme of studies), except in cases where the student only takes ONE SEMESTER module in a year, in which case 50% of the amount may be refunded at the request of the student. The programme levy for undergraduate Engineering students is R5 648 in 2014.

5.13. PSO Membership dues

In terms of a resolution by Council, all students in private lodgings, except those stated below, are under obligation to join the Private Students' Organisation (PSO) and PSO membership dues are debited against their student fees accounts.

The following exceptions exist in this regard: (i) students of the University of Stellenbosch Business School, (ii) students of the Faculty of Military Science at Saldanha, and (iii) diploma, master's and doctoral students.

The amount for 2014 is R230. Enquiries in this regard have to be addressed to the Deputy Director: Centre for Student Communities at mdunn@sun.ac.za.

5.14. Residence fee (House fees)

This amount is debited to the student fees accounts of all students living in University residences. It is used for the day-to-day functioning of residences and covers a broad spectrum of expenses which are incurred for the benefit of students living in residences.

5.15. Running costs

Running costs are levied by the academic department concerned for, among others, the costs related to the provision of study-related material.

An adjustment in study fees, by levying a professional-programme cost as running costs, is applied in the BCom (Actuarial Science) programme. The levy is used to retain the international recognition of the actuarial qualification by ensuring continued compliance with the requirements, which increase annually, of the actuarial professional bodies (i.e. the Actuarial Society of South Africa and the Institute & Faculty of Actuaries, UK). The amount for the professional-programme cost levied as running costs is R6 641.

PLEASE NOTE:

Running costs are set by the academic departments themselves and all enquiries about running costs have to be addressed to the academic department concerned. The running costs per module, as applicable, are given together with the material fees in the alphabetical lists of modules given in section 8.

5.16. Selection free

Any student selected for one of the under-mentioned has to pay the applicable selection fee within a month after selection. If you then register for the programme that you have been selected for at the University, this amount shall be used in partial payment of your student fees account. If you do not then register at the University or you register for a programme other than the one you have been selected for, you will forfeit the selection fee.

Undergraduate Programmes in Medicine and Health Sciences	R1 000
Undergraduate Programmes in Engineering	R300
BHons in Biokinetics (Education)	R1 000

5.17. First instalment on study fees

The study fees entail the total cost of studies, which includes the tuition fees, materials fees, laboratory fees, travelling expenses, running costs, programme levy (Engineering students only) and the membership dues for any faculty-bound, academic societies, as applicable to a programme or module(s).

The first instalment on study fees is payable in full by all students by the date of registration. However, a student, who can submit written proof to the Student Fees Section that a bursary or study loan has been granted him for the programme he is registering for in a particular year, may be exempt from the compulsory payment, by the date of registration, of the first instalment on study fees, if the loan or bursary is sufficient to cover the first instalment on study fees for the year. If the loan or bursary is less than the first instalment on study fees, the student is responsible for paying the difference himself. A copy of written proof that a bursary or a study loan has been awarded, which indicates specifically the amount of the bursary or loan, must be submitted to the Student Fees Section, preferably before registration or otherwise during registration. Please note that interest (see also section 7.) will be charged on all amounts not paid by the dates as specified (including on the first instalment on the date of registration), even if the payments are made with funds from bursaries or loans.

5.18. Balance of study fees (Undergraduate and Special Students)

Every undergraduate and special student's study fees are levied per module. Find out what the names of the modules are that you want to and/or are required to take for your chosen programme for the year concerned from the relevant (faculty-specific) part(s) of the Calendar.

A provisional quote according to specific module choices can be obtained at the following link: <http://www.maties.com/what-will-it-cost/provisional-statement-of-fees.html>.

An alternative method of calculation would entail the following:

Add up the amounts (tuition fees, materials fees, laboratory fees and travelling expenses) for the modules. The alphabetical lists of modules with fees payable are given in section 8.

Add to this total the running costs and the programme levy (Engineering students only) and any required membership dues for faculty-bound, academic societies to get the total study fees for the year.

To calculate the balance of the study fees, subtract the compulsory first instalment at registration from the total study fees.

On the first student fees accounts, available by mid-February, the balance payable in instalments is clearly given. If additional costs are incurred, resulting in the account being debited again, or if the account is credited because of payment or in case of discontinuation (either leading to a change in the total on the student fees account), the instalments are adjusted accordingly at certain times during the year.

5.19. Balance of study fees (Postgraduate)

Balance of study fees levied per module

Study fees are levied per module for all registrations for postgraduate programmes since 2008 for new students and since 2009 for 2008's returning students, with certain exceptions (which are levied per programme). These exceptions are: All registrations for doctoral programmes and registrations for a few master's and diploma programmes that are presented in some of the faculties. Find out what the names of the modules are that you want to and/or are required to take for your chosen programme for the year concerned from the relevant (faculty-specific) part(s) of the Calendar.

A full quote according to specific module choices can be obtained at the following link: <http://www0.sun.ac.za/pgstudies/fees.html>.

An alternative method of calculation would entail the following:

Add up the applicable amounts (tuition fees, materials fees, laboratory fees, travelling expenses and/or running costs) for the modules. The alphabetical list of modules with fees payable is given in section 8.

Add to this total any required membership dues for faculty-bound, academic societies to get the total study fees for the year.

To calculate the balance of the study fees, subtract the compulsory first instalment at registration from the total study fees.

On the first student fees accounts, available by mid-February, the balance payable in instalments is clearly given. If additional costs are incurred, resulting in the account being debited again, or if the account is credited because of payment or in case of discontinuation (either leading to a change in the total on the student fees account), the instalments are adjusted accordingly, at certain times during the year.

Balance of study fees per programme

The study fees for certain programmes (among others doctoral programmes) are levied for each year of study, as listed according to programme in the list of postgraduate programmes given in section 9.

However, for registration for master's programmes in most faculties prior to 2008 a set amount per year is still levied at continuation of study after first or second registration, and study fees for such programmes are therefore not levied per module, except where additional extra-curricular modules are taken by choice.

Students registering for doctoral programmes (and students registering for the few master's programmes for which fees are still levied per programme, with the exception of those who have registered for a master's programme prior to 2008) can obtain a full quote at the following link: <http://www0.sun.ac.za/pgstudies/fees.html>.

An alternative method of calculation would entail the following:

Consult the list of the postgraduate programmes given in section 9 for the amount payable as tuition fees for the programme you want to take.

Information on possible additional study-related costs, such as material fees (that taken together with tuition fees make up the total amount payable as study fees), may be obtained from the academic department concerned.

The quote obtainable at the abovementioned web address will also indicate any additional study-related costs.

To calculate the balance of your study fees, subtract the compulsory first instalment payable by registration from the total study fees.

On the first student fees accounts, available by mid-February, the balance payable in instalments is clearly given. If additional costs are incurred, resulting in the account being debited again, or if the account is credited because of payment or in case of discontinuation (either leading to a change in the total on the student fees account), the instalments are adjusted accordingly, at certain times during the year.

PLEASE NOTE:

In section 4 , tables are given, which sets out the estimated study fees for new registrations in 2014 for mainly the first year of postgraduate programmes for a selection of the University's postgraduate offering. The amounts can be used as guidelines to form an idea of what the study fees will more or less entail for these programmes.

5.20. Travelling expenses

If you make use of transport arranged by the University for the purpose of fieldwork, for instance, the travelling expenses will be charged against your student fees account.

The travelling expenses per module are given in the alphabetical lists of modules in section 8.

Consult the academic department concerned about the travelling expenses payable per postgraduate programmes, as applicable.

PLEASE NOTE:

Travelling expenses are set by the academic departments themselves and all enquiries about travelling expenses have to be addressed to the academic department concerned.

6. OTHER INFORMATION

6.1. Accommodation

Accommodation before the start of the academic year

House committee members, mentors and first-year students taking part in the programme for the welcoming of first-year students in the days before the official start of the University are allowed to reside without charge in the residences in which place has been allocated for them for this purpose.

For all other students, who are allowed to reside in a residence before the start of the academic year, the following rates apply.

Accommodation only	R118 a day
Accommodation with meals (if available)	R170 a day

Accommodation during the March and September holidays

Residences are not vacated during the short holidays in March and September. However, full service delivery (e.g. meals) can not be guaranteed during these times.

6.2. Booking of meals

Students on the Stellenbosch campus make use of a booking system. If a student has been placed in a residence that serves meals, the student's record is automatically loaded on the booking system. The student must load a quota to activate the meal system. Meals not booked via the booking system are charged at double the normal tariff.

PSO students may register per semester on the SU portal to be allowed to take meals in a residence in their cluster. A set registration fee is payable per semester to gain access to this benefit, and this fee is debited against the student fees account as a base fee after registration. The registration fee is set at R1 600 per year (R800 per semester) in 2014. As soon as a PSO student has paid either the fee for the year or for a term, his record is activated on the system and he must then pay for his meal quota in cash with the cashiers in Administration Block A. After doing this, all rules apply as for the meal benefit for students in residences.

6.4. Repayment of credit balances on student fees accounts

Credit balances arising in any student fees account as the result of an overpayment shall, on demand, be disbursed after the completion of the student's studies, provided that the complete bank details of the beneficiary has been received on the prescribed form. The form is obtainable from the Student Fees Section and at <http://www.mymaties.com> under "Student account", "Payment Options". This does not apply to bursary holders – see par. 6.5. below.

6.5. Bursaries, loans, prizes and stipends

All bursary awards received and administered by the University shall be paid into the student fees account of the bursary holder concerned.

Credit balances arising in the student fees accounts of bursary holders after the full amount owed to the University for the academic year concerned, has been paid, shall only be disbursed on presentation of the bursary donor's permission in writing. Bursary holders are themselves responsible for making arrangements with bursary donors to provide them with written proof that credit balances may be paid out. Postgraduate bursary holders can enquire about the procedure to be followed at the Office for Postgraduate Bursaries.

Also consult Part 2 of the Calendar, which specifically covers bursaries, loans, prizes and stipends, for more information in this regard.

6.6. Rebates

Rebate for early payment of study fees

If study fees are paid in full ON OR BEFORE 31 MARCH, a rebate of 3% will be granted on the tuition fees, provided that the parent or guardian requests and completes the prescribed form obtainable from the Student Fees Section and hands it in at the Student Fees Section for processing. This rebate, however, is not granted on the USB, SPL and MIKM components of the tuition fees. The form is also available at <http://www.maties.com> under "Fees", "Payment Options".

The rebate system for early payments has been extended to students who pay their study fees in full within sixty days after the official date of registration for the specific student group they are part of and who apply in the prescribed manner for the 3% rebate on SU tuition fees (excluding USB, SPL and MIKM components of tuition fees).

PLEASE NOTE:

Any application for a rebate for early payment may be considered only after the study fees for the year concerned have been paid in full. When the application has been approved and processed, the 3% rebate will be disbursed. Therefore, the rebate may not be calculated and subtracted from the study fees to be paid for the year concerned.

Rebate on study fees

If three or more persons from the same family are each registered for a full-time programme at the University, a rebate of 10% per student may be granted on study fees of each student. This rebate, however, is not granted on USB, SPL and MIKM components of the tuition fees. The rebate can be considered only if the parent or guardian requests and completes the prescribed form obtainable from the Student Fees Section and hands it in at the Student Fees Section for processing. The form is also available at <http://www.maties.com> under "Fees", "Payment Options".

7. PROVISIONS

Please note that the following formal provisions apply:

Council reserves the right to amend without notice all fees payable to the University, as circumstances may dictate.

Study and accommodation fees are payable in full, regardless of whether any service provided by the University is disrupted by circumstances beyond the University's control, such as strikes, student boycotts, public unrest or any other type of disruption on campus.

7.1. Outstanding fees

The examination results of students, who, without Council's consent, are fees or other monies in arrear to the University, shall not be made known until such time as the said monies have been paid in full.

In the case of any student who, without Council's consent, is fees or other monies in arrear to the University, Council reserves the right not to admit such student to the University examinations.

In the case of any student who is fees or other monies in arrear to the University, Council reserves the right, after the set date for the payment thereof, not to permit such student further attendance of classes at the University or further lodging in University accommodation.

Any student who leaves the University without having settled his account in full, shall be liable for compound interest on the outstanding amount at the prime bank rate, calculated from the date on which he left the University.

Interest at the prime bank rate shall be payable on any amounts which have not been paid by the dates in question.

7.2. Interest

Interest at the prime bank rate shall be payable on any amounts which have not been paid by the dates in question; interest is charged strictly from the dates when the amounts are due. Students who are exempt from the immediate payment of the otherwise compulsory first instalment of study fees, having submitted written proof that a bursary or loan (that is sufficient to pay the first instalment) has already been granted them, should note however that interest is still charged on the first instalment of their study fees, from the date of registration.

7.3. Repeating programmes or modules

If a programme or any module(s) is repeated, all the fees payable for the programme or module(s) shall be payable anew in full. Students registering for the first time at postgraduate level (as defined in par. 4.1.3.) should take note of this provision especially.

7.4. Dean's Concession Examinations

Under specific circumstances, final-year students, where applicable, may be granted a special examination, namely a dean's concession examination. An amount of R710 is payable when a dean's concession examination is granted and this amount will be debited against such final-year student's student fees account.

See also "Dean's Concession Examination" in Part 1 of the Calendar.

7.5. Readmission after unsuccessful studies

Students shall have the opportunity to apply in writing for readmission after unsuccessful studies. Applications have to reach the Registrar BEFORE OR ON 15 JANUARY. A student who applies for readmission is required to complete a fully motivated application form personally and send it to the Registrar together with the under-mentioned, non-refundable amount. Applications for readmission shall be considered by the Readmission Appeals Committee, whose decision in this regard shall be final.

Amount payable with application for readmission: R290

See also "Readmission after unsuccessful studies" in Part 1 of the Calendar.

7.6. Discontinuation of studies

When a student leaves the University without having completed his programme of study, the Registrar shall be notified accordingly in writing, together with the reason(s) for the discontinuation of studies. If the written notice of discontinuation of studies states no date of discontinuation, the date of receipt of such notice shall be used for the purpose of calculating the amount outstanding.

Any student who discontinues his studies AFTER 31 MARCH of the same academic year for which he registered shall still be liable for the following:

- the full study fees for any first-semester modules that he has registered for,
- half of the study fees for any year modules that he has registered for and
- half of the additional studies-related costs that his student fees account for the year comes to.

Any student who discontinues his studies AFTER 31 JULY shall be liable for the total amount that his student fees account for the year comes to.

Pro rata reimbursement of study fees to students who register for second-semester modules and discontinue in the same semester, will only be considered if the discontinuation is reported according to the above-mentioned formal process BY 15 AUGUST of the same academic year which has been registered for.

Postgraduate students, whose study fees are calculated per module, must bear in mind that discontinuation of postgraduate modules after the dates given above are also subject to these provisions.

Any student who has interrupted his studies and has been granted permission to register at the start of the second semester with a view to continuing his studies, who then discontinues his studies AFTER 15 AUGUST, shall be liable for the total amount that his student fees account for the year comes to.

7.7. Suspension (forfeiting of paid fees)

Where Council temporarily or permanently divests a student of the rights and privileges enjoyed by him as a student, or temporarily or permanently refuses him further admission as a student, such student shall forfeit all claim to repayment or reduction of or exemption from fees paid or payable to the University.

7.8. Supplementary work

Any student who is doing a supplementary module or modules with a view to improving his class marks, yet who attends no classes, shall still be held liable for the full study fees for the module(s) concerned. However, the academic department concerned may, at its discretion, exempt a student in part or in full from, where applicable, the travelling fees, copyright fees, materials fees and/or laboratory fees payable with regards to the module(s) concerned. Notification of such official exemption must be sent to the Student Fees Section in good time.

7.9 Cancellation of accommodation

In the case of prospective students, an administrative fee of R537 is payable for cancellations FROM 1 NOVEMBER of the previous year.

Prospective students may cancel accommodation UP TO 3 JANUARY of the year concerned without being held liable for any part of the accommodation fees. (Please note that the administrative fee, as mentioned above, remains payable.)

Current students may cancel accommodation UP TO 30 SEPTEMBER of the previous year of accommodation without being held liable for any part of the accommodation fees applicable to the cancellation year.

In the case of current students, an administrative fee of R1 000 is payable for cancellations AFTER 30 SEPTEMBER, R2 000 AFTER 30 NOVEMBER and R3 000 AFTER 30 DECEMBER of the year preceding the accommodation year to which the cancellation year applies.

Where a student cancels accommodation after the above-mentioned dates, as applicable, he shall be held liable for the full accommodation fees applicable to him if no approved replacement can be obtained, for as long as the vacancy exists. (Please note that the administrative fee, as mentioned above, remains payable.)

Where a student cancels accommodation on the ground of illness and submits a satisfactory medical certificate, he may be released from liability for accommodation fees.

Where a student wishes to cancel accommodation, he shall notify the Centre for Student Communities accordingly in writing. Failing this, the student shall be liable for the full accommodation fees as applicable to him.

The date of the receipt of such written notification shall be used to calculate the amount for which the student shall be liable if no date of cancellation is stated in the written notification. The amount payable shall be calculated based on how long the student made use of accommodation.

7.10. Termination of accommodation

Where the accommodation of a student is terminated during the academic year he shall be held liable for the full accommodation fees applicable to him if no approved replacement can be obtained, for as long as the vacancy exists.

7.11. Liability for damage to University accommodation

All payments which have to be made for repairing damage caused by a student to University accommodation shall be levied against such student's student fees account. Enquiries in this regard should be addressed the relevant resident head.

8. FEES BY MODULE

(Undergraduate, Postgraduate and Special Students)

8.1. Explanatory information

Subject numbers and module codes

In the list that follows, the first three columns give the numerical tag of each module. Each numerical tag contains the following information: subject number (Subject) plus module code (Mod) (first and second columns) plus credit value (Ct) (third column). A typical example of a numerical tag is “49409 - 411 12”, as in the entry for Administrative Law.

Each subject number consists of five digits. Because no two subjects are assigned the same subject number, each such number uniquely identifies its subject. Each module code consists of three digits.

The first digit shows in which year of study of the curriculum the module is normally (one possible exception is in the case of Extended Degree Programmes (EDPs)) presented: “1” stands for the first year within a curriculum, “2” for the second, etc. (Strictly speaking, this applies to undergraduate curricula only. Thus “7”, “8” and “9” stand for honours, master’s and doctoral curricula, respectively.)

The second digit shows the semester or semesters in which the module is presented, according to the scheme below:

1, 2, or 3: modules taught in the first semester

4, 5, or 6: modules taught in the second semester

7, 8, or 9: modules taught over both semesters of the year (year modules)

The third digit does not convey any information of concern to students.

The third column below lists the credit values of the modules.

Now consider again “49409 - 411 12”. First, “49409” (the subject number) uniquely identifies the subject of Administrative Law. Second, “411” (the module code) informs us that this particular module of Administrative Law is taught in the fourth year (this is the meaning of the initial “4”) and that it is taught in the first semester (this is the meaning of the “1” in the middle). Third, “12” shows that this module carries a credit value of 12.

Abbreviations of fees used in the list that follows

Tuition – Tuition Fees

MF/RC – Materials Fees/Running Costs

TE – Travelling Expenses

LF – Laboratory Fees

SPL Fee – School of Public Leadership Fee

USB Fee – University of Stellenbosch Business School Fee

PLEASE NOTE:

1. It is important that students take notice of the information given in the “General Information” section in the front of this book.
2. The total study fees can be calculated by adding up the total tuition fees, materials fees, travelling expenses, laboratory fees, programme levies and any applicable membership dues of academic, faculty-bound societies.

8.2. Under- and postgraduate (non-research) modules for CAMPUS 1 students

All students, with the exception of students supported by means of the telematic-technology platform, are Campus 1 students.
