

NARRATIVE CURRICULUM VITAE: TALITHA CROWLEY

Dr Talitha Crowley is a lecturer at the Department of Nursing and Midwifery at Stellenbosch University.

Talitha holds a PhD in Nursing, Masters in Nursing, Bachelors in Nursing and postgraduate diplomas in Primary Care Nursing, Nursing Education and Nursing and Health Service Management.

She is a professional nurse with an interest in primary health care and has been involved in several projects that focused on the education of professional nurses to prescribe and manage patients on antiretroviral treatment (ART) since 2010. She is on the editorial committee of the HIV Nursing Matters magazine published by the Southern African HIV Clinicians Society.

Her research expertise is in instrument development and mixed-methods research. She currently holds a National Research Foundation (NRF) Thuthuka research grant (Post PhD Track: 2019-2021) to develop a self-management intervention for adolescents living with HIV.