

TSRC Candidate 2024/2025

Karabelo Sekobolo

CANDIDATE MANIFESTO

I strongly believe in initiating change myself. During my term, I've identified several areas on campus that need improvement. I've learned that being part of TSRC isn't just about innovation, but also about continuing the work of previous terms. I understand that not everything needs to be changed; some things need to be modified. I acknowledge that the impact of my interventions and policies may not be visible for up to five years. I'm aware that I still have a lot to learn about how TSRC functions and I'm ready to apply myself. I believe there's still room for me to gain expertise in planning events, exchanging ideas, achieving objectives, and collaborating on projects to enhance student life. I appreciate the formal decorum that TSRC maintains. I believe that the TSRC could be a better student representative body by:

Understanding Student Needs: The TSRC should have a deep understanding of the issues and challenges faced by students. This understanding can be achieved through regular interaction with students, surveys, and open forums.

Effective Communication: The TSRC should ensure that information about policies, academic rules, and other matters that affect students is disseminated effectively. They should use appropriate channels to reach the entire student body.

Inclusivity: The TSRC should strive to include diverse voices and perspectives from the student body. This can be achieved by ensuring representation from different faculties, years of study, and student groups.

Active Participation: Encouraging active participation of students in university activities and TSRC administration can enhance students' wellbeing at the university. This can be done by organizing events, workshops, and discussions that involve the student body.

Transparency: The SRC should operate in a transparent manner, keeping students informed about their activities, decisions, and the reasons behind them.

Leadership: The SRC should exhibit strong leadership qualities.