By SRC 2018/2019

Date of release: Immediate

The SRC would like to regrettably inform students that tonight's proposed special meeting, which would have taken place at 18:00, has been cancelled. We apologise for any inconvenience this might cause any of our students. The meeting was called in terms of Chapter 3 section 42(2) of the Stellenbosch University Student Constitution 2018, however is cancelled due to challenges relating to quorum. The agenda point tabled was a voting matter and the SRC would have to make quorum to vote on any matter.

The proposed amendments are related to Chapter 7 section 79 (2)(a) & (b) of the Student Constitution and will be discussed at a regular meeting at a later stage in the term.

We would like to emphasise that the call for the special meeting was in fact constitutional as stated above. The announcement and agenda for the special meeting was made available 24 hours in advance via the SRC Website.

The SRC was recently informed that we can no longer use the emailing system that we have been using due to it not being in line with the POPI Act. We will therefore continue to use the SRC website as our primary source of communication.

We would like to wish the best of luck to the various students availing themselves for leadership positions during this election season, we are looking forward to an exceptional group of leaders to take us into 2020. To the voting body, please ensure that you make informed decisions on who you elect as your leadership for the upcoming term of office.

Kind regards,
