Department of Afrikaans and Dutch

Afrikaans and Dutch 178 Introductory Studies in Afrikaans Language and Literature

Afrikaans and Dutch 178 involves the introductory study of Afrikaans language and literature, as well as a Dutch component.

Students take four components:

- Afrikaans language proficiency
- Introduction to Afrikaans language studies
- Introduction to Afrikaans literature
- Introduction to Dutch

Remarks

This module leads to Afrikaans and Dutch 278.

Assessment method

This module does not have any exams. Assessment details are provided for each component, but all work in the module is compulsory. The five components contribute equally to 20% each of the final mark. To pass the module, students have to:

- complete all work (tests, essays, assignments) in all the components, and
- achieve an average mark of at least 50%.
