

Welcome to the School of Public Leadership (SPL)

FORWARD

Goal 5 of the 20 Sustainable Development Goals speaks to achieving gender equality, and empowering all women and girls. This goal is in agreement with Section 9 of the Bill of Rights of the South African Constitution and the National Development Plan.

This Second Edition of our SPL Newsletter commemorates women's month (in September nogaal) as part of Stellenbosch University's #WOMENOFSSU campaign. Please visit the webpage dedicated (Click here) to women's month. In this Newsletter, we feature two (2) articles and two (2) stories based on powerful and inspiring women within the SPL Network. Women who are alumni, current staff, and students.

Our first article is a short piece written by an Alumni Dr Patience Mbava, who holds a PhD in Public and Development Management. Dr Patience Mbava, commemorates women's month, by highlighting the importance of educating women and young girls, and expressing how SPL has assisted her in strengthening her academic voice to fulfill the role she plays in the South African society. We would like to thank her for this wonderful contribution.

Our second article, written by Mrs Melissa Botha, a Junior Lecturer at SPL. Mrs Botha shares her inspiring journey of progression, from being a student, to an intern, to Coordinating the Minimum Municipal Competency Certificate, and to initially stepping into the position as Junior Lecturer. Mrs Botha is currently representing the Stellenbosch University (SPL) at the African Women Leadership Training Programme hosted by the Egyptian Agency of Partnerships and Development. We wish her all the best with the programme.

The third and fourth articles, cover the stories of two students Ms Lindelwa Mahlalela and Ms Sheba Kashiri. Ms Mahlalela, is a former Diploma in Sustainable Development student, who has recently won the Motsepe Foundation's Golden Circle competition for the social exploits of her online business LeeConnect, a initiative which she started in a public library in 2018. Read more of her inspiring story below.

Ms Sheba Kashiri, recently attended a Summer School at Kühne Logistics University in Hamburg, Germany. In this article Ms Kashiri, who is in her second year of studying towards a Diploma in Sustainable Development at SPL, shares her experience and the exciting journey that lies ahead.

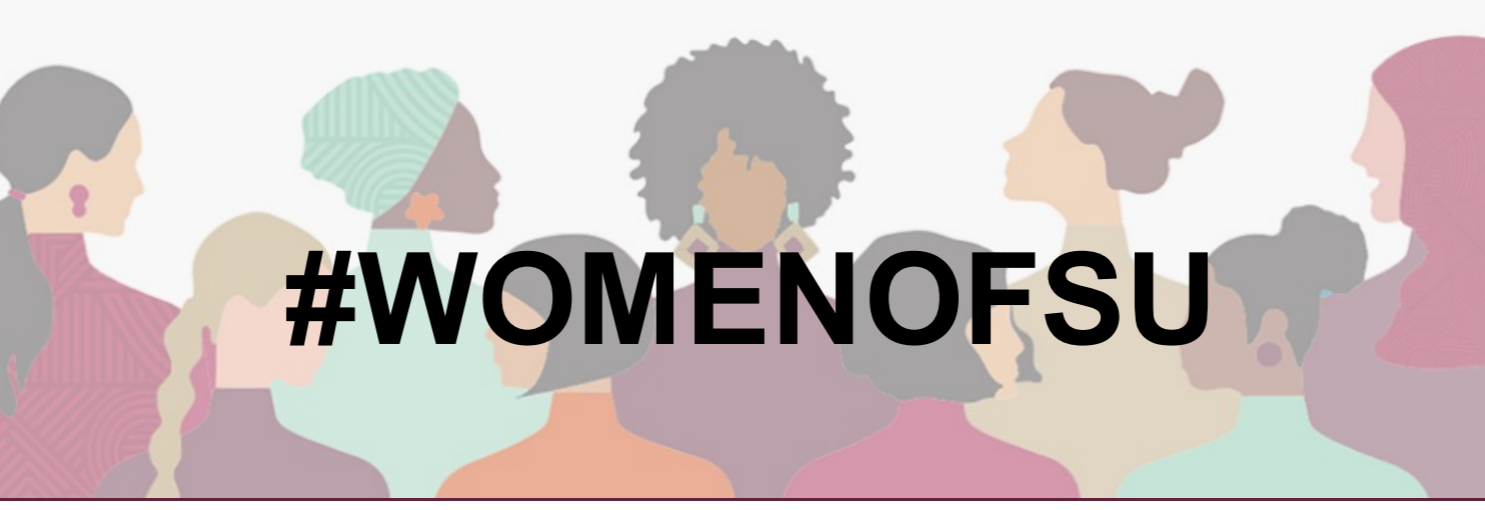

As we commemorate Women's month, we pay homage to those women who laid the foundation for our democracy and we thank them for their contribution.

This Newsletter also provides easy access to our Formal and Executive Short courses.

We hope you enjoy the read and look forward to keeping you informed of the exciting events and activities at SPL.

Educating girls and providing access to women remains the tried and tested method to true liberation.

By Dr Patience N. Mbava
2022-09-15

This women's month, we remember the gallant women of 1956 who marched to Pretoria to demand change. Now, as we continue to assess the gains made by women in South Africa since 1994, we recognise the systemic weaknesses that continue to impede gender equality in South Africa. We need to remove historical, structural, institutional, and cultural barriers to the realisation of gender equality in South Africa.

"If you don't go after what you want, you'll never have it. If you don't ask, the answer is always no. If you don't step forward, you are always in the same place." -Nora Roberts. This is something I had to learn on my way to becoming a female academic. Fear of the unknown can often lead to two very different outcomes, either you can decide to not attempt because of fear of failure or you can leap, knock you head once or twice, trip over a few things and stumble across the finish line with stars in your eyes glistening with excitement. My journey entails a bit of both.
