2. Prompt remedial action,
3. Promotion of good governance in the conduct of all SRC affairs,
4. An efficient and effective AC,
5. An optimal performance and service focused culture.

Jurisdiction

The AC may investigate any matter as it pertains to matters of SRC subject to the limitations and exceptions as stated within this document, Student Parliament Constitution and the Student Constitution.

Particular powers and duties

During an investigation, the AC may, if it considers it appropriate or necessary:

Reporting

The AC, in the person of the AC Chairperson is accountable to Student Parliament and must report on its activities and the performance of its functions to the House at least once a year. The AC Chairperson must, however, at any time submit a report to Student Parliament on the findings of a particular investigation if:

1. It deems it necessary;

However, with the mandate of insuring order within the meeting, non-members of the AC need to inform the Chairperson that they will be attending 24 hours before an AC meeting. The frequencies, structure and types of meetings by the AC would depend on the issues raised at Student Parliament, Student Parliament Committee, matters sent in my students, discretion of AC Chair and the discretion of the Speaker.

Workings of the AC:

The AC receives and investigates complaints from the students and/or staff against bodies as constituted by the Student Constitution, any structure within the ambit of Student Court or any person holding an office which confers any semblance of positional authority or representation, and has the power to recommend corrective action and to issue reports. If the AC finds that your complaint is justified, it will do whatever possible to find a solution to the problem, which includes recommending changes to the system.

The AC can also report the matter to a full sitting of Student Parliament, which will debate the matter and see to it that the recommendations are communicated to relevant parties.

Investigations are mostly done informally, but the AC may request people to give evidence when this becomes necessary.

Complainants should not fear being victimized for "blowing the whistle" on corrupt or improper practices. All information that comes to AC - including the identity of complainants and their sources of information - is treated as confidential.

You could also arrange for an interview or a consultation, if you prefer. It is better to write first and ask for an interview in the letter.

Information Handling:

The foundational call of SP is to ensure transparent and accountable leadership at all levels of SU. The point of departure of this document is that all parties are united in this objective. It is thus the role of the AC to ensure that it has all possible information pertinent to the issue at hand. The AC, through the person of the Chairperson, will thus make enquiries with all relevant structures for all pertinent information to ensure that the student body is informed of all relevant facts.

The handling of confidential information is with sensitivity, the AC will need to use discretion in terms of its publication, bearing in mind the trust of the informant(s).

Members of the AC are all at risk of leaking information, be it confidential, anonymous individual's names etc., be it suggestively or directly, this needs to be observed and regulated, possibly through disciplinary procedures and bindings to information flow. The AC will thus be responsible for formulating their own Disciplinary Code if required which is subject to the Student Parliament Constitution.

If you are unsure whether your problem is something the AC will investigate you can write to studpar@sun.ac.za.

In some cases the committee can help people to find quick solutions to their problems. The committee can also tell you where to complain if the AC cannot help you.

Procedures and Policies:

The Accountability Committee is responsible for formulating its own additional policies to ensure that it fulfils its mandate effectively. These additional policies must be approved by the Policy Unit to come into effect.

We would like to also give special thanks for the formulation of this foundational structure is hereby given to the following dedicated individuals:

Addendum M: Conduct at Student Parliament Committee meetings

1) General Etiquette

- a) Be on time – being late would cause an unnecessary delay in proceedings and it is disrespectful to your fellow Maties. If you are aware that you will be arriving late, notify the Speaker and Secretary-General in advance.
- b) Be respectful and tactful towards each other during meetings.
- c) Should a meeting become out of hand, the Speaker reserves the right to dismiss the meeting.

2) General Speaking Protocol

- a) Always speak via the Speaker. All questions or speaking turns are regulated by the Speaker.
- b) Be prepared: Know the agenda. Do not discuss a point if time has been set aside later in the agenda for the matter. If you try to address an issue earlier in the meeting than allocated in the agenda, the Speaker reserves the right to silence the person in question.
- c) Be non-discriminatory. Do not refer to “they” or “them” in a specific group, and make use of he/she. Even if your intentions are good, it could sound discriminatory to a guest. If in doubt address the question to “Madam/Mister Speaker”
- d) Please talk slowly and structured. Try not to speak too fast and do not speak erratically. Both are styles that need serious exercise in order for the time in meetings to be used effectively and for the minute taker to be able to document your points effectively.
- e) Do not repeat what a person has already said. If you remain silent on a matter it is assumed that you agree. The Speaker reserves the right to silence the person in question if this occurs.
- f) Points of order. A point of order can be called to stop a meeting if meeting protocol is broken or if a member wants to make a suggestion to extend or conclude the discussion. If a point of order is announced, all conversation must stop and the person, who called the point of order, has the floor to speak for two minutes maximum. This person has to address the Speaker and motivate why he/she called the point of order. The Speaker has to decide on the request and the decision is final. Hereafter the person who called for the point of order or the Speaker must suggest a point forward, e.g. suggesting that the discussion stops and goes over to a vote, or that only two more comments are made and that the discussion is then concluded.
 - i) Examples of, but not limited to, when a Student Parliament Committee member may call for a point of order is:
 - 1) The Speaker or a Student Parliament Committee member is biased, judgmental or irrational.
 - 2) If there exists uncertainty on a vote that is to take place.
 - 3) A point is being set aside without consensus.
 - 4) If there is deviated from the agenda or if any other meeting protocol is breached.
 - 5) The discussion is going in circles and no new information is being brought to the topic

3) Motions

- a) Requirements: A motion must:
 - i) As far as possible be in both English and Afrikaans.
 - 1) To ensure accessibility for all, it must at least be in English

- ii) Have a mover and must be seconded.
 - 1) Both parties' student numbers, names, surnames and signatures must be legible
- iii) Have gone through the Policy Unit prior to being submitted.
- iv) Include a motivation and other documents that will serve as background.

b) A motion has to be:

- i) Formulated and translated into both languages as far as possible at least English by the mover, but preferably both.
- ii) Must have a seconder
- iii) Sent to the Policy Unit for review at least ten (10) days prior to the submission date as stipulated by Policy Chair.

- vi) Finally the motion will serve for approval at the Student Parliament Committee meeting.

4) At the Student Parliament Committee meeting the following protocol has to be followed:

- a) The motion has to be brought forward by the mover or the Speaker.
 - i) If the Speaker brings it forward he/she may participate but may not vote in the matter
- b) A discussion is opened to the floor on the motion. Should the Speaker be the mover, the Secretary-General facilitates the discussion. Should the Speaker and the Secretary-General have seconded and mover the motion; the AC Chair is responsible for the discussion. After all these options have been exhausted those present will elect a facilitator amongst their number.
- c) Amendments can be made to the motion, amendments has to be approved through a vote before the final vote. An amendment exists to correct minor aspects of the motion and should not change the core of the motion. If an amendment is needed that changes the core of the motion, the motion should be set aside and a different motion be tabled as to the agreed process.
- d) The motion, with any amendments, is voted upon.

5) Exceptions

- a) A motion can only be tabled at a Student Parliament Committee meeting, without the process mentioned above, in extreme circumstances. Such circumstances would include: if the Student Parliament Committee cannot meet in the intervening time and a decision is required by the Student Parliament Committee

The process is then as follows:

- i) The Student Parliament Committee is consulted that a motion is necessary.
- ii) The Policy Unit is held responsible for the formulation of the motion.
- iii) The motion is brought to the table and follows the procedure of a normal motion.

6) Voting

There are two primary forms of voting which are used within the Student Parliament Committee. These are open and ballot voting, discussed below.

a) Open Voting

Open voting is used in cases where the item for decision is not sensitive and the Student Parliament Committee is comfortable with their vote being known. In this case a show of hands is used to indicate if the Student Parliament Committee is for or against the item or abstaining from the vote.

b) Ballot Voting

A ballot vote is used when the item for decision is of a sensitive nature or if the Student Parliament Committee members wish to have their vote secret. This is the best form of voting to use if an unbiased vote is required. In this case ballots are handed out and the voting procedure described according to the need of the item being voted on. Ballots that are gathered can be of three (3) natures:

- i) Positive vote: the ballot contains name/names, a yes/no etc vote. This vote is counted.
- ii) A spoiled ballot: the ballot has a mark across it or has other marks, but does not contain information pertaining to the vote. This vote is counted when calculating the majority vote.
- iii) A blank vote: the ballot has been left blank. This vote is not counted, and is thus not accepted as being part of the calculation of the majority vote.

A ballot vote traditionally needs fifty percent plus one (50% + 1) vote in order for an item for decision to be accepted or declined. If this requirement is not satisfied the chairperson announces the process to be followed. In a 50% split vote, the chairperson may use his/her deciding vote.
