PROFESSOR STEPHANUS MULLER

Sedert prof Muller se aanstelling in die Departement Musiek ongeveer tien jaar gelede het hy hom as uitnemende en uiters produktiewe dosent en studieleier, versierende organiseerder en grensverskuiwende navorser onderskei. Daarvan getuig die rekordgetal magister- en doktorsale studente wat hy in hierdie tyd oplewer, die opbou van die Dokumentasiesentrum vir Musiek (DOMUS) van 'n beskeie biblioteekversameling tot die belangrikste navorsingsargief in sy soort in die land, en sy indrukwekkende getal publikasies. Noemenswaardig in hierdie verband is veral die boek oor die geskiedenis van die EOAN Operageselskap wat onder sy intellektuele leiding die lig sien, en die boek Nagmusiek, 'n monumentale studie oor die Suid-Afrikaanse komponis Arnold van Wyk, wat sekerlik die belangrikste musiekwetenskaplike boek tot nog toe in Afrikaans is. Prof Muller kan met reg as een van die voorste musiekwetenskaplikes in Suid-Afrika beskou word.

Since Prof Stephanus Muller's appointment in the Department of Music approximately ten years ago, he has distinguished himself as an excellent and exceptionally productive lecturer and supervisor, a far-sighted organiser and groundbreaking researcher. Proof of this includes the record number of master's and doctoral students that he has produced, the development of the Documentation Centre for Music (DOMUS) from a modest library collection to the most important research archive of its kind in the country, and his impressive publication list. Particularly noteworthy in this regard is the book on the history of the EOAN Opera Group published under his intellectual guidance, as well as the book Nagmusiek, a monumental study of the South African composer Arnold van Wyk and undoubtedly the most important musicological book in Afrikaans to date. Prof Muller can rightly be regarded as one of the leading musicologists in South Africa today.

PROFESSOR LIZETTE RABE

Afgesien van haar pligte as professor en voorsitter van die Departement Joernalistiek, het prof Rabe haarself die taak opgelê om die publiek van die aftakelende en potensieel dodelike siekte depressie bewus te maak. Hiervoor stig sy in 2012 die Ithemba-stigting. Deur Ithemba, wat "hoop" beteken, bevorder sy openbare bewusmaking van 'n openlike gesprek en navorsing oor hierdie biologiese, kliniese siekte om vooroordele af te breek. Sy begin ook 'n mediaveldtog om die moreel veroordelende term "selfmoord" met die meer deernisvolle "selfdood" te vervang. Daarbenewens reël sy sedert 2013 verskeie Hope Hikes, wat gemeenskappe nooi om te kom "loop vir hoop", en sy maak die publikasie Hoop – 'n Troosboek, een van 'n handvol eksemplare van Afrikaanse troosliteratuur, persklaar. Prof Rabe se bydrae om hoop te kweek oor depressie, die siekte van wanhoop, verdien erkenning.

In addition to her duties as professor and chair of the Journalism Department, Prof Rabe has set herself the task of raising public awareness of the debilitating and potentially fatal illness of depression. To this end, she established the Ithemba Foundation in 2012. Through Ithemba, which means "hope", she promotes awareness of, as well as open discussion and research on, this biological, clinical illness, breaking down prejudice. She also started a media campaign advocating for the replacement of the morally judgemental Afrikaans term "selfmoord" (self-murder) with the more compassionate "selfdood" (self-death). Additionally, she has since 2013 organised several Hope Hikes, inviting communities to "hike for hope", and has prepared the book Hoop – 'n Troosboek, one of only a few Afrikaans titles of consolation literature, for publication. Prof Rabe's contribution to create hope about depression, the illness of despair, is worthy of recognition.

PROFESSOR MARK TOMLINSON

Prof Tomlinson is een van die wêreld se voorste navorsers oor vroeë ontwikkeling en geestesgesondheid by jong kinders. Sy aansien in internasionale openbare gesondheid word deur instellings soos die Wêreldgesondheidsorganisasie erken. Hy het 'n uitstekende publikasiegeskiedenis en werf deurlopend beduidende navorsingsfinansiering van bronne wêreldwyd. Sy navorsing het 'n internasionale impak en het die potensiaal om die lewens van miljoene mense, veral kinders, in lae- en middelinkomstelande te verander. Sy bydraes is substantief – soos die bevinding dat tuisbesoeke deur gemeenskapswerkers kinders se gesondheidsuitkomst kan verbeter – sowel as metodologies – soos sy werk oor tegnieke vir die assessering van navorsingsprioriteite in gesondheid. Hy verpersoonlik die ideale van uitnemende akademieskap van wêreldgehalte, en het beduidend tot die profiel en aansien van die Universiteit Stellenbosch en sy Departement Sielkunde bygedra.

Prof Tomlinson is one of the world's leading scholars in early childhood development and mental health. His stature in the global public health field has been acknowledged by bodies such as the World Health Organisation. He has an outstanding publication record and has consistently secured substantial research funding from sources around the globe. His research has had international impact and has the potential to change the lives of millions of people, especially children, in low- and middle-income countries. His contributions are both substantive – such as showing that home visits by community workers can improve child health outcomes – and methodological – as in his work on techniques for assessing health research priorities. He embodies the ideals of excellent world-class scholarship and has made a major contribution to the profile and stature of Stellenbosch University and its Department of Psychology.
