

Faculty of Education: Differentiated Teaching and Learning Approaches: Semester 1

The Faculty of Education will be following a differentiated approach in which there will be a mixture of face-to-face tuition, online and hybrid learning components. Information is provided here about which modules will be presented in which format – whether face-to-face, online or hybrid (a combination of both) – so that students and staff can check and make the necessary arrangements.

The following definitions apply:

| DEFINITIONS: | |
|----------------------------------|---|
| Fully online: | There are no scheduled f2f interactions with the students. The interactions are facilitated via digital technology by utilising either synchronous (real-time) or asynchronous modalities, e.g., upload of podcasts / lectures. The asynchronous (non-real-time) modality allows for students to engage with learning material at different times and locations. |
| Fully face to face (f2f): | The module is offered in a physical classroom or facility with lecturers / facilitators and students are present in person. Most of the summative assessments happen in brick-and-mortar facilities. F2F learning allows for different teaching and learning methodologies to be used and can contain a blend of traditional classroom methods and online interaction. However, most of the teaching, learning and assessment is still facilitated on campus or in the classroom. |
| Augmented – Type 1: | Synchronous (real-time) streaming and recording of face-to-face (f2f) learning opportunities with a limited number of students in venue. |
| Augmented – Type 2: | Asynchronous provision of material, and face-to-face (f2f) learning opportunities (with a limited number of students in venue) are used to explain pre-recorded material. |
| Augmented – Type 3: | Asynchronous provision of material, and face-to-face (f2f) learning opportunities (with a limited number of students in venue) are used for question-and-answer sessions. |

The tables below indicate the teaching and learning approach that will be used for first semester modules. Additional information on the academic programme for the first semester will be shared from time to time, and we therefore encourage you to keep an eye on the faculty's website and announcements on SUNLearn.

PLEASE NOTE:

These are the arrangements as per Thursday, 3 February 2022. Any changes in specific modules will be communicated timeously by the subject lecturer.
