To mark Stellenbosch University’s Centenary in 2018, the regular corporate brand identity has officially been adapted to include a Centenary brand mark and visual identity. This document provides a brief introduction to the new identity, followed by additional usage guidance and links to key resource templates.

The identity rules in this document comprises the approved visual elements of the Centenary brand identity and their various applications. The intention is to present a clear, consistent and cohesive Stellenbosch University (SU) brand, which is crucial in telling the brand story.

This Centenary brand identity manual provides the University community with the visual and editorial tools required to articulate, express and apply the brand identity across touchpoints that define and distinguish the brand in its Centenary year.

PRIMARY IDENTITY

The Stellenbosch University Identity Framework

An existing framework of five levels to distinguish between the various entities based on their relationship to the core institution. The application of the University’s central visual elements, either as the primary feature or as an endorsement applies.

- Level 1: Central Management and administrative divisions
  This level includes the core functional entities that form part of the central institutional structure, such as the Rectorate and all administrative divisions. A strictly monolithic (uniform) application of the corporate identity applies at this level. Faculties that do not have their own identity are categorised at this level too.

- Level 2: Faculties and academic departments
  This level includes core operational entities with teaching and research as their primary activity; that is, mainly faculties and academic departments. They represent the University’s core academic activities, and fulfill function that are linked directly to SU as an institution of learning. The visual elements that represent the University remain the primary identity carriers in the signature designed for this level. Academic departments and divisions may not have their own logo.

- Level 3: Strongly endorsed entities (i.e., the entity has its own identity or logo; the SU logo being the endorsing brand)
  This includes operational entities that have developed independent identities in the market or industry, but are linked to the University’s activities of teaching and research, and adhere to SU’s institutional quality guidelines. The University must have a clear presence in visual communication. SU emblems must be displayed prominently and used in accordance with these guidelines. The University of Stellenbosch Business School (USB) and the Bureau for Economic Research (BER) are such entities. The independent entity’s logo will always be the primary identity, while the SU logo is to take the secondary identity of endorsing brand.

- Level 4: Student and sports-related activities
  Level 4 includes official student and sports-related activities at SU. The name ‘Maties’ has been associated with the University for decades, and the Maties identity applies specifically to this level.

- Level 5: Endorsed entities
  Operational activities that provide an ancillary service to the University, but require their own market profile. These entities are not involved in the core activities of teaching and research, for example Sun Media or the Neelie. The logo of the independent entity is the primary visual identity – the University emblems do not feature at all, only a description of the relationship, such as “in association with”/“a Stellenbosch University company”/“under the auspices of Stellenbosch University”. Prior approval of such wording should be obtained from the Brand and Corporate Identity Department.

Summary of Centenary Marks

The Centenary brand mark was developed by simply adding the numerals ‘100’ to the existing corporate signature and crest. The standard grey colour has been converted into a gradient to mimic the appearance of platinum, which is the universal symbol of a centenary.

Centenary application rules

- The regular corporate logo must be replaced by the Centenary version.
- Faculties may still use their individual logo as a secondary emblem.
- Strongly endorsed entities retain their own identity as primary identity, while the Centenary endorsement mark replaces the SU logo (this applies only to schools, institutes and centres that have been approved by Senate).
- Professional Administration and Support Services (PASS) environments, academic departments and research groups may not develop their own brand identities.
- The ‘Maties 100’ culture mark must replace the regular Maties logo.
- The Maties identity was designed specifically for non-academic student activities such as sports and societies.

Centenary Brand Mark – Compositions

The Centenary brand mark must always be displayed clearly, consistently and effectively, and may not be altered in any way. Preserving the integrity of the Centenary brand mark is important for communicating to both internal and external communities. Two primary logo compositions have been developed for the approved Centenary visual identity, to allow for flexibility of use:

Primary logo – horizontal

HORIZONTAL VERSION

HORIZONTAL BRAND SIGNATURE

The brand mark, word mark and expression (motto) are combined to form the brand signature. When the brand signature is scaled down, the size of the expression (motto) must be at least 7 pt.

Primary logo – vertically stacked

VERTICALLY STACKED VERSION

VERTICAL BRAND SIGNATURE

forward together · saam vorentoe · masiye phambili

---

Centenary application rules

- Core functional entities that form part of the central institutional structure, e.g. Rectorate and administrative divisions
- Ideal for horizontal banners, mastheads, letterheads, footers and compositions in landscape orientation.

- Ideal for vertical compositions, such as covers, clothing, graphic icons and other square or narrow treatments.
Endorsement Mark – Compositions

The endorsement mark is used for applications where associated brands do not use the SU identity as primary mark.

Centenary application rules

- The endorsement mark is primarily used for:
  - core operational entities with teaching and research as their primary activity, e.g., faculties and academic departments; and
  - operational entities that have developed independent identities in the market or industry but are linked to the University’s activities of teaching and research, e.g., the University of Stellenbosch Business School (USB) and the Bureau for Economic Research (BER).
  - The height of the endorsement mark dictates the clear space between the endorsement and the primary mark.
  - The visual weight distribution is more or less 75% for the primary mark and 25% for the endorsement mark.
  - The endorsement mark can be used independently of the primary mark, as in the example on the right.
Logo Specifications

The Centenary brand mark must always be of a size that ensures that all elements are clearly visible and recognisable.

Sizing

- Minimum: 60 mm
- Minimum: 40 mm
- Minimum: 50 mm

When the brand signature is scaled down, the size of the motto must be at least 7 pt.

Clear Space

- Minimum: 30 mm

"X" = half the width of the platinum rectangle

- By isolating the brand mark from other graphic elements (e.g. other logos, copy or photography) the clear space prevents competing claims on attention.

- The minimum clear space area must be calculated as half the width of the platinum part of the icon, and must always be scaled along with the logo.

- Minimum accepted sizes for production of the logo are listed above. There is no maximum size.

- The logo must never be reshaped or distorted — must be reproduced at a fixed aspect ratio (scaled up or down in size proportionally) to ensure it is reproduced consistently.
The colours associated with a visual identity become an instantly recognisable element of the institution. Therefore, SU’s visual identity will retain its official colours during the Centenary year; the only change being that the standard grey that has been converted into a domed metallic finish to resemble platinum – the University’s symbol of the Centenary.
Incorrect Use

Centenary brand marks may be modified in no way whatsoever, and only files provided by the SU Department for Brand and Corporate Identity may be used.

The following is not allowed:

- cutting off parts of the logo;
- placing the logo on a non-brand colour;
- stretching the logo out of proportion;
- moving elements around;
- altering the logo colours;
- placing the logo on a background that is too light or too dark to be legible.
The numeral ‘100’ has been incorporated into the regular Maties culture mark in all cases where the latter is used. The standard visual characteristics of the Maties culture mark are combined with the numeral.

PRIMARY IDENTITY

Culture Mark ‘Maties 100’

The numeral ‘100’ has been incorporated into the regular Maties culture mark in all cases where the latter is used. The standard visual characteristics of the Maties culture mark are combined with the numeral.

Centenary application rules

- The primary horizontal version is the standard option.
- For limited application only
- Ideal for vertical or square compositions, e.g. clothing, graphic icons and other square or narrow treatments.

Typography – Print

Primary typeface: Gill Sans

The primary typeface for the Centenary identity is Gill Sans, the University’s corporate font, which comes in a variety of weights and offers flexibility of use. Commitment to this typeface will help create a consistent and strong identity. Gill Sans is to be used in all body text.

Gill Sans

abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz
ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
1234567890 @#%&{}<>*^  # Body copy

Secondary typeface: Garamond Italic

Designers have been using the Garamond typeface and its variations as a standard for four centuries because of its elegance, warmth, readability, and legibility. Created in 1989 by Robert Slimbach, Adobe Garamond is a careful, modern interpretation influenced by specimens of Garamond’s original type.

Garamond Italic

abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz
ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
1234567890 @#%&{}<>*^  # Call-outs

The brand expression (motto) is written in lower case Garamond Bold Italic. Consider the target audience when deciding on whether to put the English, Afrikaans or isiXhosa at the top.

Typography – Digital and Desktop

Sometimes, the standard typefaces may be unavailable in certain desktop publishing applications or Web or digital interfaces, including email platforms and blogs. When the official SU standard fonts are unavailable, two of the most commonly available fonts, Georgia and Calibri, must be used as substitutes, because they are the closest match for the official fonts.

Calibri

Calibri was designed with an upright stress, open forms, and a neutral yet friendly appearance. It is optimal for print, Web and mobile interfaces, and the letterforms have excellent legibility characteristics.

Georgia

Georgia is a serif typeface designed in 1993 by Matthew Carter and hinted by Tom Rickner for the Microsoft Corporation. It was intended as a serif font that would appear elegant but remain legible even when printed in small character or on low-resolution screens.

Centenary Subgraphic

The Centenary subgraphic is a visual narrative, symbolic of the past 100 years: a circular composition of 100 leaves.

Standard use on white

Optional coloured version (faculty-specific use)

Colour options are limited to the colour ranges and combinations illustrated on this page. The subgraphic may be used as a design element. Contact the Brand and Corporate Identity Department for usage guidance.

Business Card

All business cards are generated centrally, via SUN MeDIA. Configurations of the business card must include the applicable Centenary mark. For digital print, the ‘process colour’ version of the mark must be applied.

An alternative version is a sleeve that slides over the current card. This sleeve is constructed from a selected maroon paper stock and all graphics and information are foiled onto both the front and back using standard matt foil to match Pantone® 877.

Note that this option is costly, as each sleeve would be suitable for use with one business card only.

DIGITAL COMMUNICATION

Email Signatures

Consistent use of our electronic email signatures will contribute to a consistent brand language and a unified voice in communicating with our stakeholders. Email signatures have been created for levels 1 and 2 of the SU brand identity framework. The master design has been adapted to fulfil all requirements for supporting the Centenary brand identity. The email signature templates for Level 3 and 4 are being finalised.

Level 1: Central Management and administrative divisions

- This level includes the core functional entities that form the central institutional structure, such as the Rectorate and all administrative divisions, and involves a strictly monolithic (uniform) application of the corporate identity.
- Faculties that do not have their own identity are categorised at this level, too.
- As the image below illustrates, the SU logo takes the central position, to the left.

Level 2: Faculties and academic departments

- Includes core operational entities with teaching and research as their primary activities – mainly faculties and academic departments. They represent the University’s core academic activities, and fulfill functions that are linked directly to SU as an institution of learning. The visual elements that represent the University remain the primary identity carriers in the signature designed for this level.
- Academic departments and divisions may not have their own logo.
- The SU logo is positioned to the left, with the faculty’s logo to the right. The name of academic departments must be written in full and be incorporated into the email signature. Primary and secondary identities may be displayed only as illustrated in the image below.

NOTE

Secondary identity’s logo

Faculties that do not have their own logos will make use of the Level 1 email signature template.
Email Signatures

Level 3: Strongly endorsed entities (i.e., the entity has its own identity or logo; the SU logo being the endorsing brand)

- This level includes operational entities that have developed independent identities in the market or industry, but are linked to the University’s activities of teaching and research, and adhere to SU’s institutional quality guidelines. The University of Stellenbosch Business School (USB) and the Bureau for Economic Research (BER) are such entities.
- The University must have a clear presence in visual communication. SU emblems must be displayed prominently and used in accordance with the prescribed guidelines as illustrated in the image below.
- The independent entity’s logo will always be the primary identity (positioned to the left), while the SU logo is to take the secondary identity of endorsing brand (positioned to the right).

Level 4: Maties brand

- Level 4 includes official student and sports-related activities at SU. The name ‘Maties’ has been associated with the University for decades, and the Maties identity applies specifically to this level.

Please note that the Level 3 brand guideline applies only to entities (e.g. schools, institutes and centres) that have been approved by Senate. Note that the Level 3 email signature template needs to be created specifically for each environment. Contact the Brand and Corporate Identity Department if you require assistance.
PROJECTING A CONSISTENT IMAGE OF THE UNIVERSITY THROUGH OUR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMMUNICATIONS IS IMPORTANT. THE CORPORATE PRESENTATION TEMPLATE MUST BE USED FOR ALL ELECTRONIC PRESENTATIONS. USERS MUST REFRAIN FROM REDUCING TEXT SIZE AS LARGE TYPE IS EASIER TO PARSE, ESPECIALLY IN LARGE VENUES.

FAQs

Frequently Asked Questions

What does a brand identity manual do?

A brand and visual identity manual shares top-level messages and a recognised visual identity to all SU stakeholders. For SU, the Centenary brand identity manual builds on the existing brand identity guidelines, formalising the Centenary brand identity. The Centenary brand identity manual document is intended to assist all stakeholders in using the Centenary brand identity and how it may be applied and used effectively in communications.

Why does having an integrated brand image matter?

Complying with the brand and visual identity rules ensures that diverse audiences have a consistent experience in their interactions with the University. Repeated interactions with a consistent SU brand will reinforce key messages and priorities. What is more, this allows SU stakeholders to communicate professionally, increasing chances of a successful interaction, which ultimately builds on the SU brand.

How will this affect my programme, department, initiative, etc?

Much of the content of this identity manual will seem familiar. Some Centenary brand and visual identity changes will require further consultation with the Brand and Corporate Identity Department. These changes required in messaging and imagery will assist audiences in recognising the consolidated visual representation of Stellenbosch University.

May my programme, department, initiative, etc. develop our own symbols, icons, images, type treatments, word marks or logos?

The overall objective is to create a consistent look so that all visuals appear familiar and appropriate. More often than not, teams or groups will need to use an item from the established visual system. If, after reviewing this brand and visual identity manual, a specific team or group should identify a need for an as-yet-unaddressed visual item, they are invited to contact the Brand and Corporate Identity Department.

Special circumstances that warrant additional consideration apply to our unit. Whom should we contact?

It is impossible for a single set of rules to cover all circumstances. Therefore, we welcome questions and conversations about special circumstances that individual units may encounter. If you do not find what you are looking for in this manual, please do not hesitate to contact the Brand and Corporate Identity Department for assistance.
