

MMil in Security and Africa Studies (Option A)

- Option A:
 - a thesis with prescribed reading in preparation of a research proposal; and
 - an oral examination and submission of an article for publication in an accredited journal; or
 - a paper at a subject conference or a graduate seminar.

Admission Requirements

Subject to consultation with the lecturers at the School for Security and Africa Studies, one of the following degrees is required:

- a BMilHons degree in Security and Africa Studies with a minimum final mark of 60% in each subject; or
- any other honours degree with Military History, Strategic Studies, Political Science or another appropriate subject as major, with a final mark of 60% in each subject.

Duration of Programme

You must complete the programme after one year of full-time or two years of part-time study.

Programme Structure

Depending on your academic background, you select a research theme in consultation with your supervisor, who also consults with the subject group as well.

This research theme leads to a research proposal, which must have a definite focus on Security and Africa Studies and which in turn leads to the writing of a thesis.

Programme Content

- A thesis (180 credits) in which you demonstrate the ability to undertake independent, scientifically responsible research.
- The thesis must comply with the guidelines of the University.
- An oral examination.
- Your thesis must be preceded by a literature study leading to a research proposal, which you must present at a Faculty of Military Science graduate research colloquium.
- Publish, or submit for publication, an article on the study theme in a DOE- accredited journal or present a paper at a subject conference or graduate seminar.
