09:50–10:00 Welcome by Ernestine Meyer-Adams, Director: Division for Social Impact

10:00–10:15 Introduction: Why After School programming? (Jacqui Boule, Chief Director: After School Game Changer, Western Cape government)

10:15–10:45 Panel discussion; Jacqui Boule in conversation with:

- Paul Hendricks (Department of Cultural Affairs & Sport)
- Chrischar Rock (Division for Social Impact)
- Sibongile Khumalo (The Learning Trust)
- Jacquelyn Dommise (Assitej South Africa)

10:45–11:15 Attendees to discuss the following questions in small groups:

1. Can After School programming compensate for a lack of access to resources and so narrow (or close) the opportunity gap between resourced and under-resourced learners?
2. What critical components are necessary to maximise the impact of After School Programmes?
3. How can we institutionalise After School programming?
4. What is the formula for ensuring that a range of partners and stakeholders are crowded in to offer more comprehensive programming?

11:15–11:45 Feedback from attendees

11:45–12:15 Concluding remarks from panel members

12:15–12:30 Closing (Ernestine Meyer-Adams)

12:30 Finger-food lunch

Remember it's not just an After School Activity,
IT'S AN AFTER SCHOOL ADVANTAGE!
