

BIOGRAPHY OF MS TSHEPO L. MAKINTA

Tshepo Makinta is a lecturer in the Bachelor of Nursing and Midwifery (R.174) programme at the Department of Nursing and Midwifery at Stellenbosch University, South Africa.

She holds a Master of Science in Nursing (Wits), a Diploma in Medical and Surgical Nursing Science (Trauma and Emergency Nursing) (Wits), a Diploma in Nursing Education (UJ), and a Bachelor of Nursing (UL, Medunsa Campus). She is currently a PhD candidate with the University of the Witwatersrand with the research focus being disaster nursing.

Tshepo has worked her nursing career in public and private health care, and nursing education institutions, with a keen interest in emergency nursing and quality of care. She is a member of the Alpha Beta Beta Chapter of Sigma Theta Tau International, Honor Society for nurses (Sigma/STTI).

