

Bio Professor Tim Murithi

Professor Tim Murithi, Extraordinary Professor, Security Institute for Governance and Leadership in Africa, Faculty of Military Science, University of Stellenbosch and Head of the Peacebuilding Interventions Programme at the Institute for Justice and Reconciliation, in Cape Town, South Africa. He is also Extraordinary Professor of African Studies at the Centre for African Studies, University of Free State, and also Extraordinary Professor, Faculty of Military Science, University of Stellenbosch, South Africa. He was previously Claude Ake Visiting Professor, Department of Peace and Conflict Research, Uppsala University and Nordic Africa Institute, Sweden. He is Research Associate, Institute for Democracy, Citizenship and Public Policy in Africa, University of Cape Town; Research Associate, African Centre for the Study of the United States, University of Witwatersrand. He is also a Board Member and Senior Associate at the Centre for Mediation, University of Pretoria; Senior Research Associate at the Nordic Africa Institute, Sweden. He has over 28 years of experience in peace, security, governance, transitional justice and development in Africa. He is a former member of the Tana High-Level Forum on Security in Africa Technical Committee. He has held the previous posts: Senior Research Fellow, Department of Peace Studies, University of Bradford, United Kingdom; Head of Programme, Institute for Security Studies, Addis Ababa; Research Fellow, African Gender Institute, University of Cape Town; Senior Researcher, Centre for Conflict Resolution, University of Cape Town; and Programme Officer, United Nations Institute for Training and Research (UNITAR), Geneva, Switzerland; Lecturer, Department of Political Studies, University of Cape Town.

He has also served as an Adviser and Consultant to the African Union Commission for Political Affairs, Peace and Security (PAPS), Pan-African University, and African Citizens Directorate (CIDO), Southern Africa Development Community (SADC), Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS), UN Office for Special Advisor on R2P/Genocide Prevention, UN Development Programme, UN Economic Commission for Africa, UK DFID, and German GIZ. He is on the Boards of: African Union Leadership Academy (AULA), Centre for Mediation, University of Pretoria; and Democracy Beyond Borders (DWB). From 1995 to 1998 he taught at the Department for International Relations, Keele University, England, where he also obtained his Ph.D in International Relations.

Professor Murithi is on the International Advisory Boards of the Journal of Peacebuilding and Development, African Journal of Conflict Resolution (ACCORD), Journal of African Union Studies and African Peace and Conflict Journal (UPEACE), Brazilian Journal of African Studies and the journal Peacebuilding. He has authored over 110 journal articles, book chapters and policy papers. He is the author and editor of 12 books, including as author: The African Union: Pan-Africanism, Peacebuilding and Development (Ashgate, 2005) and The Ethics of Peacebuilding (Edinburgh University Press, 2009); Judicial Imperialism: The Politicisation of International Criminal Tribunals (Jacana, 2019); co-author of The African Union Peace and Security Architecture: A Handbook (FES, 2014). He is co-editor of: Elections, Violence and Transitional Justice (Routledge, 2022); The African Union: Autocracy, Diplomacy and Peacebuilding (I.B.Tauris, 2018); The African Union and its Institutions (Jacana, 2008); The African Union Peace and Security Council: A Five Year Appraisal (ISS, 2012); and Zimbabwe in Transition: A View from Within (Jacana, 2011). He is the editor of Routledge Handbook of Africa's International Relations (Routledge, 2014) and editor of Towards a Union Government of Africa: Challenges and Opportunities (ISS, 2008) and of The Politics of Transitional Justice in the Great Lakes Region (Jacana, 2016). He is General Editor of the Routledge/Europa Series on Perspectives in Transitional Justice. E-mail: tmurithi@ijr.org.za; Twitter: @tmurithi12